Student Learning Outcomes

College: Health and Human Services

Department: School of Nursing

Degree Program: Master of Science in Nursing, Systems Population

---

1) Students participate in the process of interpretation of research and translation of research into practice in communities and health care systems.

2) Students will demonstrate knowledge of the legal and ethical basis of practice with health care systems and special populations and participate in professional organizations.

3) Students will be able to synthesize knowledge from social sciences, public health, and medicine and advanced nursing to inform their leadership practice with organizational systems and special populations.

4) Students provide competent Advanced Practice Nursing care (adheres to professional standards of Advanced Practice for specialty) to diverse populations of patients.