

Student Learning Outcomes

College: Liberal Arts & Sciences

Department: Religious Studies

Degree Program: Bachelor of Arts in Religious Studies

- 1) To understand the historical, cultural, and textual dimensions of religion using the critical methods and approaches of the academic study of religions.
- 2) A recognition of the integral role of religion in cultures, especially as it relates to issues of race, class, gender, ethnicity, sexuality, identity, and power.
- 3) The ability to engage in self-reflective, open, informed, and civil conversation about diverse religious traditions.
- 4) The development of transferable skill sets that include reading carefully, writing cogently, speaking effectively, and thinking critically.