PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

The Geography curriculum is oriented toward the methodologies of social science in which the importance of location is stressed. Traditional regional studies and conceptual courses that deal with land use patterns, transportation systems, site location, the distribution of retail activities, city planning, and urban systems are augmented by technique-oriented courses such as map design and compilation, computer mapping, analysis of satellite images, statistical methods, and geographic information systems (GIS). These courses prepare students in both the concepts and methods of contemporary spatial analysis. Ideally, students will take a progression of courses beginning with GEOG 1101 and GEOG 1105, the foundational courses. Students have flexibility in designing their program of study and should consult with an advisor to consider the most efficient options.
